EVER FANCIED SHOWING OFF YOUR SKILLS AT THE ENGLAND NATIONAL TEAM'S TRAINING BASE AT ST GEORGE'S PARK?

Fancy playing an inch-perfect pass or hitting a powerful shot on the same, slick surface which graces Wembley Stadium? Want to line up alongside your favourite ex-pro?

Well now you can, thanks to the UK's first female-only corporate football tournament. Our Female Copa Del Cure Leukaemia, a six-a-side football tournament will return in 2024, taking place at the home of England Football, St George's Park.

Players can take advantage of the opportunity to live like Lionesses for a day, featuring in matches on the FIFA-approved 3G pitch and then enjoying evening entertainment at the on-site Hilton Hotel.

As well as the football there will be plenty of additional elements to the event to add to the fun, including footballing legends to be involved on the day including the likes of former Lioness and now Sky Sports Pundit Sue Smith and England's Record Cap Holder, Farah Williams MBE. Confirmed players for 2024 will be announced nearer the event.

BT Sports' Kenzie Benali will be our host on the day and will be on hand with the microphone for all of the post-match interviews as well as hosting the evening entertainment.
